THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR NO. 7.

CEARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1915

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR

NO MAN WAS MORE POPULAR.

Sudden Death of David Turnbull Cause Given Over Residents of Maple City.

Had Two Attacks During Week and Felt Death Was Near—Belonged to Numerous Organizations in the City—See Active Man.

(Monmouth (Ill.) Daily Atlas, Jan. 23.) Seldom, if ever before in the history of Monmouth, was the city enshrouded in a mantle of sadness as it is today following the death of David Turnbull, who died yesterday afternoon at 3:50 o'clock at his home, 303 South Main street. No man was ever more highly respected and more more loyal to the city, home and friends.
His interest in the city at large and his words of comfort to bereaved persons with whom he was in constant contact for more than a quarter of a century, makes his loss all the more keen.

Mr. Turnbull was stricken about 2:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Cary's livery barn, where he was pa-ring to make an automobile call to the hospital. He told Mr. Cary he was not feeling well. After considerable urging he agreed to go home and leave the call in charge of Mr.
Cary and his employees at the barn.
Mr. Turnbull was taken home in a carriage and after arriving there his condition became critical. Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Ebersole were summoned and after all efforts to save his life were exhausted he passed away quietly at 3:50 o'clock.

He was conscious until the last and was the second attack Mr. Turnbull had during the week. The one prior to yesterday occurred on Sunday morning about 8:30 o'clock. It was feared by his physicians at the time that he would not survive. He had been working regarding his condition for several days and told some of his intimate friends recently that he was in bad condition.

Mr. Turnbull was a thirty-second degree Mason belonging to the Cedarville lodge. He was a member of the board of directors and a former president of the Monmouth Commercial club, and a director of the Monmouth Loan association and the Monmouth hospital. He was an active member of the Modern Woodmen and for many years was clerk for the local camp.

Only recently he resigned as a member of the board of directors of the X. M. C. A. and was one of the men who assisted in opening the institution in the Maple City.

In church circles he was also prominent, being chairman of the board of trustees of the First United Presbyterian church. At the time of his death he was attending the annual meeting of the Cedarville school district.

He was educated at Xenia, and in 1893 began business as a furniture dealer and undertaker in Ohio.

He located in Monmouth in January, 1894, where he conducted an underwriting and livery business for a number of years, giving up the livery business in 1908 and devoting all his time to underwriting, in which he has met merited success.

In 1890 he was elected sheriff on the Democratic ticket, and so well did he fill the important office that he was again elected in 1898.

He has the distinction of being one of the four Democrats who have held the office of sheriff of Warren county since 1890.

From 1895 to 1899 he ably served the city of Monmouth on the Board of Aldermen.

For a long period of years he has occupied the position of treasurer of the fire department, and has actively contributed his time to the welfare of this efficient organization.

For some time he was clerk of the local camp of Woodmen, and clerk of the state organization. He was also an active member of the B. P. O. Elks.

Mr. Turnbull was married November 26, 1894, at Xenia, O., to Miss Ada Stevenson. They have one son, Dr.
J. Maxwell Turnbull, and one daughter, Miss Lois Turnbull. One son, Robert Turnbull, died in 1892.

The funeral will be held Sabbath afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First United Presbyterian church. Dr. T. H.
McMichael will have charge of the services.

The Atlas has the following editorial:

"The death of David Turnbull is one of the most serious losses the community has experienced in recent years. Of middle age, active, capable, always at the fore front in meritorious public affairs his energy was well placed and his counsel conservative and helpful.

CLIFTON U. P. CHURCH CHIMES.

position that made him so many friends of the most sincere intimacy and broadest fellowship.

David Turnbull will long be remembered in Monmouth as a truly big man, a man of strength, of ability, of true greatness. His place is vacant.

—1915 a better year than ever before.

—Moria Rife is leader Sabbath evening. The roll will be called.

—The big show is further on.

—Standing water stagnates, and so does a standing Christian.

—Don't try to get too much pleasure when you are young. You'll enjoy pleasure better later.

—We greatly enjoyed the fellowship at the reception given Dr. Chestnut by the R. P. church at Cedarville.

—We are anticipating great pleasure in the work together during the coming years.

—The support of 5000 missionaries in the foreign field has been cut off by the war in Europe. Ought we to double our offerings this coming year?

—Our winter communion comes Feb. 14. We hope there may be some accessions. Let us work and pray to that end.

—Preparatory services will be held Friday and Saturday, February 12 and 13, at 7:30.

—The Session will meet Saturday at 1 p. m. for the admission of new members or any other business.

—February is a short month and March brings spring. How the time flies. Another winter almost gone. So life is slipping away.

—Dr. Ritchie assisted Rev. Lorimer, of Jamestown, in Evangelistic meetings last week.

—If you really love your wife you will shovel a path to the clothesline.

—Are the telephones, automobiles, and other modern conveniences away with the old-time neighborliness of the early days? Don't let it be that way in your locality.

—There is no revenue from a liquor license, the people pay all the money they afterward collect.

—The congregation will hold a business meeting February 13, at 2:30, at the close of the preaching service to consider plans for excavating the basement of the church.

—Miss Reva Moore and Otis Tannehill are among the young people on the list at this writing.

—The business meeting and social of the C. U. were held at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. W.
Anderson last Saturday evening. The attendance was satisfactory for January.

—The church choir will sing at the served next Sabbath. Dr. H. C. Foster will preach on Friday and Rev. Leroy Allen on Saturday at 1:30.

—Members of the circulating library, comprised of all subscribers to The Sunday School Times, will bring in their books Feb. 7 for exchange.

—The great need of the church today is not a better educated ministry, finer music, larger buildings, better equipment or even more money, but a trained membership who will go out and win others for Christ.

—At a recent service a Kansas pastor received into membership an eight-year-old boy and an eighty-two-year-old man.

—Father was walking to Sunday school with little Johnny, and endeavoring to teach Johnny his Golden Text. He discovered a man seventh, that shall he also reap." Johnny repeated it after his father several times, and seemed to have mastered the correct wording.

—The father near the Sunday school the other day Johnny his last rehearsal. "Now, son," he said, "let's have the Golden Text once more without any help from me."

—This is what he got from Johnny:
"Whatsoever a man sows always reaps."

—The story is told of a certain man who did not approve of foreign missions. One Sabbath he was in church when the collection was being taken up for these missions, the collector approached and held out the collection box.
The man shook his head.

—He never gave to missions," he whispered.

—Then take something out of the bag, sir," whispered the collector;
"the money is for the heathen."

—The collector's first question when he entered the war office to take up his new post was addressed to the porter:

"Is there a bed here?" he asked.

"Get one," ordered Lord Kitchener.
It will require that kind of "camping on the job" in order for the church to win the fight for the small as well as the great things of the kingdom.

—If no one went to church, there would be no church, and then—DO you care to think what Clifton would be like, under such circumstances?

—WOULD you like to be associated with a community from which the church element had been entirely removed?

—Do not believe you would. And then, don't you owe it to yourself, that being the case, to help with your presence in the church movement?

—In Christ's name! Welcome to this house of God!

Its worship, its fellowship and its peace.

M. C. THOMAS.
Farmer Institute Lecturer and County Agent, Troy, Ohio.

Following are the subjects upon which Mr. M. C. Thomas will speak at this season's Institute work:

1. Soy Beans.
2. Corn Growing.
3. Commercial Fertilizers.
4. The Live Stock Farmer.
5. Swine Husbandry.
6. Increasing Soil Fertility.
7. The County Experiment Farm and County Agent.

A carefully prepared synopsis now on file in the office of the Director of Institute work will insure a systematic and logical presentation of his work.
With practical experience to back the work it should prove interesting and instructive to all.

MEETING TO RE-ORGANIZE THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

As a result of a motion passed by council an effort will be made on Monday evening to re-organize the fire department. To this end all former members and new ones in general are asked to come out and take part in this important work. The meeting will be held Monday evening at 7:30.
There is no one institution that should be of more public and general interest than a fire department and a volunteer department will be just what the people make it. Lend your support in this movement.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MARY JANE CRESWELL.

This community was shocked Tuesday evening upon learning of the very sudden death of Mrs. Mary Jane Creswell, widow of the late Benoni Creswell, whose death occurred last July.

About four months in general are called her daughter, Mrs. John Randall, by phone, stating that she was not well and to come immediately.

Her daughter, Miss Bertha Creswell, who teaches in District No. 1, had not arrived home, while her son, Birdsell, was in town. Shortly after Mrs. Randall arrived, her mother had suffered a stroke of apoplexy, but children scarcely until Bertha and Birdsell arrived. Death took place about five o'clock. The deceased had been in good health and her sudden death was quite a shock to family and friends.

Mrs. Creswell was seventy-one years of age and was the daughter of James and Mary Marshall. She was united in marriage to Benoni Creswell August 25, 1866, and the following year they survived them; Mrs. James Martin and Charles Creswell, Springfield; Mrs. J.
R. Wells, Mrs. John Randall, Miss Bertha and Birdsell.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from the residence, the services being in charge of Rev. J. W.
Patton. The deceased had been a lifelong member of the M. E. church and was a truly perfect character. Burial took place at Masses Creek cemetery.

EVERYBODY'S GOING TO THE INDIAN VILLAGE.

Or at least all who can will visit Dayton next week to see the wonderful Hiawatha Indian Village Exhibition, which has been secured for one week, February 8th to 13th, by The Edison & Johnson Co. Best of all, it costs you nothing to see this realistic and entrancing exposition of Indian life which Longfellow wrote about.

Every man woman and child is truly interested in seeing a real Indian. The savage and her papoose, bucks and maiden and the famous old warrior chief in native dress will be there to give special performances of their customs a number of times each day and it is a rare chance for all in this vicinity to learn of Indian life as it existed long ago. It combines the value of educational history, with human interest for a lecturer explains everything. You really cannot afford to overlook such an entertaining and enjoyable opportunity. Attention is called to Edison & Johnson's advertisement in this issue.

WANTED—One of the large maga- zine publishing houses desires to employ an active man or woman in this community to handle a special plan which has proven unusually profitable.

Good opening for a person who can dress with two references, Publisher,

Farmer Institute, Toledo, Ohio.

home of his parents 24 years and 25 years in his own home. Married in 1888. Mrs. Hummon says the best crop the farm produces are boys and girls. They have five sons and two daughters. Has 120 acres of some of the most fertile soil in northwestern Ohio. Being of German parentage, he naturally acquired industry, economy and general thrift. General farming with feeding of stock has brought success to him. Farm well under-drained and highly productive. Farm buildings ample and in splendid repair. The following subjects are discussed by him and, best of all, he knows from actual experience what he is talking about:

1. The Drainage and Its Benefits.
2. Some Leaks on the Farm.
3. Feeding Hogs For Profit.
4. Alfalfa and How We Grow It.
5. Potatoes.
6. Permanent and Sanitary Farm Improvements.
7. What We Owe to Our Community.

8. The Wife's Share.
Mr. Hummon has several years' experience in institute work and is growing rapidly and giving splendid satisfaction.

CEMETERY OFFICERS CHOSEN.

The annual meeting of the Masses Creek Cemetery Association was held Monday afternoon at which time the following were chosen trustees for three years: S. K. Williamson, W. J.
Tarbox and Ray Dean.

Immediately following the annual meeting the trustees organized by electing James A. McMillan, president; W. J. Tarbox, secretary; Earl Bull, treasurer and superintendent; Henry Brown, sexton.

The reports of the year showed the association to be on a good financial basis, which insures lot owners that the grounds will be cared for in the usual manner.

COUNCIL TAKES UP MANY IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Fire Protection, Cleaning of Snow From Sidewalks and Re-organization of Fire Department Discussed—Engineers Resign.

Council met in regular session Monday evening. Vice-Mayor McFarland presiding. Reports of the various committees were read and the usual monthly bills allowed.

When it came to the condition of the fire department and the net result of the work at the last five there were some pointed statements made.

Members rose in no uncertain manner spoke his sentiment on the failure of the engineer to have his engine in condition, and that failure on his part resulted in the Fisher house being burned when it could have been saved.

Engineer Rochoff has not been sleeping at the fire engine room and council by a full vote instructed the engineer that he must from this time on sleep at his night at headquarters or give up his place. Mr. Rochoff was present and was asked if he had any objections to the new rule and he replied that he would not stay at night and that council must provide someone else. However, he agreed to remain until an engineer was secured.

The action of council was the result of demands from property owners that we should have a more adequate fire department.

Council took no action on the water works proposition, no expression being given other than from Vice Mayor McFarland, who spoke in the negative.
In the spring council expects to repair one or two cisterns and will like to have to place a new one on the north side of town.

Member Dean voiced the sentiment of the members in his complaint against those who have not been cleaning their sidewalks of snow.

From now on the ordinance is to be enforced and property owners who fail to clean the walks in a reasonable time are to be notified by the marshal and if they have ever seen "The Howe camera man" worked about two years on their features and the pictures show us everything about our Navy from the life of the sailors at play to the most serious work they perform. This stirring reproduction quickens the pride of every American citizen, young and old, who witness it. It inspires a deeper reverence for the flag and makes one proud to be a citizen of the United States. Other splendid features are on this program, among them "The Making of a National Cash Register." This feature will be particularly interesting to men.

On Thursday, February 11th, "The Fog of War" will be the attraction at the Fairbanks theatre, Springfield, Ohio, and the mere announcement of the return of this delightful little comedy will be sufficient to pack the theatre.
The trials and tribulations of little "Fog" and her triumph over them make her very dear to the heart of her audience and win for her unlimited applause. The story of the little Irish girl who goes to make her home with her English relatives is both humorous and pathetic. Their cold manners and harsh treatment astonish the little girl and when they refuse to love "Mick," her rugged danish rebels and wishes she had never seen England. Eventually, however, she finds a friend who understands and makes her happy.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 11-12-13th, the Howe pictures will play their semi-annual engagement at the Fairbanks theatre. This year they will present as their history feature "The United States Navy of 1915," taken by authority of Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, and recommended by naval officers as the most wonderful pictures they have ever seen. The Howe camera man worked about two years on their features and the pictures show
us everything about our Navy from
the life of the sailors at play to the most serious work they perform. This stirring reproduction quickens the
pride of every American citizen, young and old, who witness it. It inspires a deeper reverence for the flag

zen of the United States. Other

TIME FOR SOME CONCERTED ACTION.

Now that the fire department has been given a shaking up and sound having demanded more protection for property it might be well to urge some more stringent police action. The salary of $5 per month is not a very attractive one and a more adequate reward for law enforcement is de-

While the salary is small there is a lot connected with each arrest, and judging from the frequent violations the number of arrests an officer that was on the street more could earn a fair salary in fees.

Gambling has been going on in a most open manner for several weeks.
Not long ago two white Main street business men engaged in a fight over the result of a "crap" game in which one of the gamblers had lost a prize said to have been $25. No charges were filed and the public was left in ignorance of the facts.

Sabbath afternoon or evening a well known gambler was found sitting in a gutter on Main street almost helpless from intoxication. All day Sabbath as well as Saturday night, drunks abounded at most every corner.

There was a time that a certain line of business in town was looked upon as the only source of the illegal sale of liquor. This is not so today in that wet goods are being and have been sold in almost every form and to the boot-legal and blind-tiger proprietor. Legitimate business is being mocked that liquor laws can be evad-

A well-known temperance speaker stated once that local option legislation was no stronger than public sentiment that backed it. And the truth of the statement is verified every day.
For some reason public sentiment is never as strong for law enforcement as it is for legislation. If it takes parades, band music, glitter and red fire to arouse the people election day, there should be a sprinkling of it at least once a month to stimulate law enforcement.

ATTRACTIONS

At the Fairbanks Theatre, Springfield, Ohio, Week of February 8th.

The well-known team of comedians, McIntyre & Heath, are announced for one day at the Fairbanks theatre, Springfield, Wednesday, February 10th. This team has been on the stage for a great many years, first in vaudeville, but in recent years in musical comedies. Probably no other pair of comedians is more popular than these two and their work in "The Ham Tree" in which they will be seen in Springfield places them in the first rank of artists. The story of "The Ham Tree," which deals with two broken down circus men, trying to make their way back home, is exceedingly funny and McIntyre & Heath make the most of the funny situations therein. A splendid and entertaining company have been furnished these artists and it will be one of the best shows of the session.

A COMPLIMENTARY ENTERTAINMENT The Hiawatha Indian Village

An Exhibition which we have engaged for One Week Beginning Monday, February 8th.

It is not a picture, but life in its reality as told by our beloved Longfellow, and is familiar to every school child.

It represents the forest scenes with the tepee and electrical campfires around which hovers bucks squaws humming the lullaby in Indian tongue to the little papoose, while old chief Shoman, now 98 years old, proves to be a most interesting character.

There will be a wedding, a christening, and a war dance at intervals each day, beginning at 10 a. m. also a lecture on Indian customs.

And Its All-Free On our Fifth Floor

School teachers and club women in a company of 10 or more may reserve places by advance arrangement. Address Store Superintendent.

We place all our modern store conveniences at your command—Rest Room, Post Office, Baggage Checked, Restaurant and short order lunch at the soda fountain.

It is the once in a life time chance to see a real Indian Village—at no cost. Don't miss it.

The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to hear the suit brought by the Anti-Saloon League on the Home Rule case. The Ohio courts held that the vote of the people was sufficient to make the Home Rule operative. It is expected that the different county license boards will be appointed at once and saloons will open in some forty counties that had previously been dry. In some cases towns have since the last election voted dry and will remain so regardless of the Home Rule clause.

County Detective W. H. Matthews, of Delaware, who has acted under Prosecutor Johnson for two years or more is said to stand a good chance of being named state five marshal by Gov. Willis. Both come from the same Congressional district and Matthews is said to have been valuable in the last campaign. They "dopesters" also have it that should Matthews get the place Prosecutor Johnson will be appointed as his legal advisor. This would be satisfactory to the Governor as the Prosecutor is a graduate of the Governor's school, Ada University.

Cincinnati comes to the front again. This time the Hamilton county delegation has served notice on the Republican majority in the legislature that if there is any liquor legislation contrary to the wishes of that county there is a chance of the entire program of the majority being tied up and nothing would be accomplished. A number of liquor bills have been offered, some for stricter regulation, changing the license system and raising the tax. Both branches of the legislature are in control of the drys who are pledged to certain anti-liquor legislation. It remains to be seen what is to become of the Hamilton county threat.

The present stage of high water brings to the attention of the public the attempt of the repeal of the Vonderhilde act to provide reservoirs in the flooded territory. The act was passed by the last legislature and has been the subject of considerable discussion as well as court action. People along the Miami valley, about Cincinnati, Hamilton and various towns along the Scioto river are standing by the act, while over in Shelby, Miami and Clark county there has been much opposition to it. Dayton is the center of the contest and almost every organization in the city, civic and religious, has asked the legislature to keep hands off. Already two bills are in to repeal or modify the Vonderhilde act and members of the legislature are being besieged from each side for support. The prediction is that the opponents cannot secure enough votes to repeal the act as the large delegation from Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo and Cleveland are favorable. The Vonderhilde act was made a political issue in many counties last fall, but the administration is not responsible for the bills already offered. In Montgomery county probably not one man in a thousand is against the act. A prominent Republican from that county made the statement several days ago while at the Xenia depot that if the present administration should permit the repeal of the flood measure no Republican would ever be elected to any office in that county in the next twelve years. Representative Bryson of this county is listed as an opponent of the present flood act.

The Brain's Control. It has long been a common physiological knowledge that the left half of the brain has full command over the right side of the body, while the right half of the brain exercises a like command over the left side of the body. An electric shock applied to the right half of the brain will cause movement on the left side of the body; similarly the left half of the brain so stimulated affects the right side of the body.

Why Animals Change Color. As has long been known, the chameleon and several other cold-blooded creatures are able to change color at will. Science attributes this ability to minute cells situated in the cutis and called chromatophores. They are filled with the pigments of the various colors, and capable of contracting or enlarging while the process of color change is going on.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 7

RUTH CHOOSES THE TRUE GOD.

LESSON TEXT—Ruth 1:1-18. (Read entire book.) GOLDEN TEXT—Thy people shall be a people, and thy God my God—Ruth 1:16.

The book of Ruth is a great love story, full of deep spiritual suggestions. Amid the tales of war, defeat, success and failure, this story most beautifully illustrates another side of the life of the Israelites. The author of the book is supposed to have been the same as the writer of Judges, perhaps Samuel.

I. "There Was a Family in the Land." This famous drove Elimelech, his wife Naomi and their two sons, Mahlon and Chilion, into the land of Moab, even as Abram before them "went down" into Egypt. The immigrant sons married in that land, one of them becoming the husband of Ruth. Through this Israelitish alliance Ruth learned of the true God and the record of this book reveals God to us in his sincerity and truth. This suggests the essential missionary character of the Old Testament. After the death of her husband and sons Naomi, hearing of returning prosperity in the homeland (1:18), elected to return to her own people.

II. "Enterest We Not to Leave Thee." This story puts to silence all of the mother-in-law jokes. When Naomi thought they had gone far enough she sought to dismiss the younger women and expressed to them the tender affection which existed between them. A woman in an eastern land can find rest only in the house of her husband and these young widows stood, but poor chance of securing husbands among those who hated their race. Moreover we must remember that they were penniless. There seemed to be nothing for them to do but to go back to their father's house. Ruth, a naturally and tearfully turned back, but Ruth clung to Naomi (v. 14). This illustrates our experience when we have to decide whether to leave friends, home and everything that we may follow Christ or, on the other hand, have to choose the things which are good and refuse to follow the best. (Matt. 10:37; Luke 14:33).

III. "Whither Thou Goest I Will Go." Naomi gave Ruth another opportunity to go back to her people and this time bases her appeal upon the love of Ruth for Orpah (v. 15). The word Ruth means "friendship" and one of the strongest motives for a loving nature to forsake the Lord is the love for those that are of the world. Many young men and young women have had such loves but they usually result in making shipwreck of faith. Read II Cor. 5:14, 15; Rom. 12:10. This is the love that counts. Ruth's love for Naomi was not a selfish love (Luke 14:26-33). No more beautiful nor immortal words can be found in all literature than Ruth's reply (vv. 16, 17). Ruth's words are still sung as best expressing our song of life devotion. They have furnished inspiration for countless lives. Naomi was a stern and for some of the earth's greatest musicians as well. They most wonderfully illustrate our attitude towards him "whom not having seen ye love" (I Peter 1:8).

IV. The Sequel. At Bethlehem Ruth had no other thought than to cling to her mother-in-law, even in poverty and a life of lowly service. She did her mental duties faithfully and displayed more of the real heroism of faith than that shown in the daring exploits recorded in the other history (Judges) of her day. The true hero is not the reckless participant in Europe's battlefields, nor is he found in the mad struggle for commercial supremacy, but more often in the self-sacrificing acts of tender women and in the common round of life's duties. Ruth in a humble but with Naomi was better off and better satisfied than to have lived in the finest palace in Moab (Psalm 123). Through all of this love and devotion Ruth was being fitted for a larger sphere of influence in which she was enabled to give to Naomi the happiest life possible to her. Not once is Ruth's beauty suggested but she had the more attractive attributes of goodness, kindness and courtesy. She may have had personal beauty but her character far outweighed the physical.

This lesson is suggestive one for Decision day in our Sunday schools. Give all an opportunity to choose and to follow even as Ruth did. For the little folks tell the story simply "as to a little child."

Emphasize the beauty and value of lovingly serving our elders. Naomi is no less a heroine. Her name means "pleasant, winsome." True, she suggested a new name Mara, "bitterness," but her sorrow was not for herself but for others. "It grieveth me much for thy sakes" (1:13). Naomi made the religion and worship of Jehovah as attractive as to win a most notable convert. It is our privilege to make religion attractive. This it cannot be bought nor commanded, but by the power of the holy spirit and through the fellowship of Christ may be the experience of all.

Bethel. This world we could improve, I say, our progress would be sure, if we had less advice each day And much more good example.

A Wonder. Gabe-Jones is the most truthful man I know of. Steve—Why do you say that? Gabe—He had a black eye last week, and I asked him how he got it, and he told me that a man hit him.

The Silver Lining. These days are cold, but do not point. Of this fact make a note: You must hear a thing about The man who rocks the boat.

The Wise Fool. "Politeness costs nothing," remarked the sage. "Maybe that's the reason why most people have no use for it," added the fool.

Huh! "It is a funny thing," said Bill to his friend, Mr. Nummy. "The man who's wearing ear muffs will imagine he looks human."

Fairy Tales. "Pleased to meet you." "I had to work late." "I can take a drink or let it alone." "My, isn't your baby pretty?" "We have never had a quarrel since we were married."

Sure. "It may seem queer," said Mr. Burke. "But you can bet it's so: An idle rumor does more work Than anything I know."

Names Is Names. D. Light runs a grocery store in Cincinnati.

Placing the Credit. Luke wrote the following paragraph some years ago, and it appeared in his column. Since then it has been going the rounds credited to almost every publication in the country. Here it is: "One morning, father missed some money out of his clothes and thought mother had frisked him during the night. So, while mother was busy in another room, father went through her hand bag in search of his coin. He found a receipted milk bill, an unpaid ice bill, a big hunt of prepared chills, a powder puff, two coupons six months old, representing the last time he had taken her to the theater; a button hook, six samples of dress goods, a clipping containing Gene Field's 'Lift the Boy Blue,' a sample of talcum powder, one of the baby's mittens, an old tunkie of himself taken before marriage and 7 cents in coin. And father felt so mean that he kicked himself all day."

Things to Worry About. The average depth of the sand on the African desert is from thirty to forty feet.

Daily Health Hint. Never stand behind a mule when you are arguing with him.

Our Daily Special. Be a good loser, but don't make it a habit.

Luke McLuke Says. You can make a woman madder by ignoring her than you can by calling her names.

When a girl marries she usually loses a good friend and gets a grouchy boarder.

Politics is one of our most popular sports because you can talk it all day and not know a blame thing about it.

When they are engaged they imagine that they can get along with the child when they go to housekeeping. But after they have been married for awhile they want two different parlor suits.

The lad who loafs around and owes everybody in town is the same fellow who is deeply worried because the Panama canal isn't paying expenses.

The old fashioned poker player who used to walk around his chair to change his luck now has a son who can deal a diamond from the bottom when his stack gets low.

Before he gets her he thinks she is a humming bird. After he gets her he discovers that she is a screech owl.

Conscience may help some. But the fear of getting caught is what keeps most of us straight.

A woman may have no aim in life. But she always seems to hit the target when she starts out to shoot Friend Husband.

There isn't any fun in being if you have to catch fish for a living. Before she gets him she believes all he tells her about his prowess as an athlete. After she gets him she discovers that about the only sport he excels in is throwing the ball.

Once in awhile father will play fox when he comes home with a fine bun on, and he will carefully hide his money so mother won't find it. And then he will get up with a big head and a dazed feeling and stall around for an hour trying to remember where he hid the blame money.

The first baby gets a silver mug, a gold ring, an ivory rattle and about $200 worth of baby clothes. But the sixth baby is lucky if it gets two bibs and a ten cent box of corn starch.

It is said that the Dayton Light & Power Co. will erect a new plant some time this year on a site about two miles from Dayton that will cost several millions. The company has branched out and now has most of the lighting within twenty-five miles of the city and it is expected that South Charleston will be added this summer. The officials have some changes under consideration here. Already meters have been installed measuring the "juice" even to light the foot and mouth disease. From past experience no one seems certain when the disease has been under control and stock will be free from exposure.

Mr. E. L. Stormont has returned here after a visit with his daughter, Miss Agnes, who teaches at Indiana Harbor, Ind.

According to advices there is a strong probability that there will be no fair this coming year. Breeders will not want to take any chance on the foot and mouth disease. From past experience no one seems certain when the disease has been under control and stock will be free from exposure.

The Greene County Agricultural board re-elected former officers at the annual meeting of the board Saturday afternoon. S. T. Baker, of Cedarville, was re-elected president; J. H. Lackey, of Jamestown, vice president; Milo Anderson, treasurer, and R. R. O'Brien, of Xenia, secretary. A committee consisting of R. D. Williamson, William Dodds and J. B. Stevenson was appointed to attend the meeting of the Madison River and Miami Valley Fair circuit in Springfield, February 28th.

About seventy-five members of the nineteen boards of education of the county met in Xenia last week at the call of County Superintendent E. M. Reynolds. The topic of importance was the new school law. It is said there was some opposition to the system in general; others wanted the office of county superintendent abolished, while some thought there were too many district supervisors.

About forty college students enjoyed a bobbed ride to the home of Miss Alberta Creswell last Friday evening, the affair being a surprise to Miss Creswell. Refreshments were taken along and the evening was enjoyed to the fullest extent.

We notice by the Cincinnati Times-Star that Dr. David McKinney was one of the delegation of ministers from that city that waited upon "Billy" Sunday in Philadelphia several days ago in an endeavor to get the noted evangelist to come to what he once termed the "second greatest hell-hole on earth, Cincinnati." It is said that when the delegation entered Sunday's quarters he was being rubbed down after one of his sermons. The evangelist was so overjoyed by the impression the Cincinnati delegation made that he seized a bath robe, jumped out of bed, ran down the hall, crying joyfully, "Ma, oh, ma!" when he handed his wife the petition. It is thought that the evangelist will visit Cincinnati before the next election in an effort to reduce the liquor vote in that city, another statewide prohibition election to be held next fall.

An Old Fiddlers' Contest was held last Friday in Dayton and two of the three first prizes were won by Xenians that are well-known here: James Jeffrey, aged 34, cabinet maker, and George Jefferys, who is past seventy, won first and third places.

Greene county is asked to furnish a car load of supplies for Belgians and commissaries have been appointed for each town. The local committee appointed by Mayor Dodds, of Xenia, is S. T. Baker, T. B. Ralph Edwin is the name of a new son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bull, who arrived Sabbath. If Grandpa Frank Townsley should make a mistake and bid too high on fat stock it will be because his attention is more on the grandson than on the markets.

We probably exceeded our authority in making the statement in our last issue as to the proposition put forth by the township school board and which the local board accepted. Like all the proposals made from each board none were officially acted upon, but in an informal way. The statement we believe was as stated to us by President Stormont, of the township board, but it was not officially endorsed by his board. The action of the village board will be up for the approval of the voters in this district as soon as the necessary legal papers can be drawn and acted upon. Sentiment in the village is strongly in favor of the change and we predict a large majority in favor of centralizing the two districts.

Mr. O. E. Bradburn has been a speaker at the Farmers' Week at the O. S. U. this week, being on the program Wednesday for an address on "Raising of Beef Cattle."

EX-SENATOR'S SPEECH

Ex-Senator Frank J. Cannon, of Denver, addressed a large audience at the opera house Thursday afternoon in the crusade against Mormonism under the direction of the National Reform Association. The meeting was opened with scripture reading by Dr. Chesnut and prayer by Rev. McMichael. Dr. McChesney as chairman of the meeting introduced Dr. James S. Martin, superintendent of the National Reform Association who stated the object of the crusade against polygamy as well as other national evils this organization was combating. The Ex-Senator having been born in the Mormon faith and served in the Senate knew the inside of a kingdom that promotes crime and treason. The speaker was particularly severe on the connection of the political parties with the Mormons who hold the balance of power in eleven states. His exposure of the control of the sugar trust through the head of the Mormon church was along the line of articles published in a magazine some few years ago. The automobile as well as railroad and other interests are under the control of this church. "The following is the platform in this crusade. We insist that all churches have equal rights in this country. We insist that the Mormon church shall have no more privileges than any other church in this country. We insist that the temporal Mormon Kingdom shall cease to exist in this country. Various resolutions were passed supporting this crusade and asking Pres. Wilson not to speak in the Mormon tabernacle as other presidents had done.

If Mr. G. Hog has given us the correct sign, we are to have an early spring and winter is about over, for evidently there was opportunity for this so-called weather forecaster to see his shadow. Just how the G. Hog rule works we are not able to advise. Not having seen his shadow in this section probably would not apply to other sections of the country that had clear weather and sunshine on February 2. The best way to sum up the weather situation is to conclude that the G. Hog has no more control over weather conditions than has mere man.

Mr. Hayes Bates has rented the W. P. Townsley property just vacated by Charles Paine.

Mrs. Laura Huston, Pauline, aged 25, wife of Lester Pauline and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Huston, of near Jamestown, died Tuesday morning after a two weeks illness of grip and other complications. The deceased was married to Mr. Pauline about a year ago and beside the husband leaves a two weeks old daughter. Mrs. Pauline graduated from the high school here and was a member of the R. P. church. The funeral was held Wednesday, burial taking place at Jamestown.

Miss Lydia Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Shaw, north of Clinton, was seriously burned about the hands and face by explosion of a gasoline iron Saturday evening. The first thought of the parents upon seeing the daughter's plight wrapped her in rugs and smothered the flames, but not until her shirt was burned off. Dr. Adams, of Clinton, was called and dressed the wounds and it is not thought that Miss Shaw will be scarred permanently.

Xenia is to have an "old fiddlers' contest" next Tuesday night. Cedarville will be represented by "Sammy" Flockner, who will accompany David Tarbox and George Barber and take part. A number from here plan to attend.

The following announcements have been received here: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Smith announce the marriage of the niece, Mary Eleanor Smith to Mr. William Edmond Stonay on Wednesday, the third of February, Kent, Ohio. At home after March 1st, Charleston, South Carolina.

Mr. Chas. Owens has returned after a month's visit in Florida. He spent several days with Messrs. Milton and E. S. Keyes, who operate a large orange grove at Orlado. Samples were brought home and the fruit was perfect. Thousands of bushels of oranges and grape fruit will spoil owing to no market abroad due to the war. Mr. Owens was much impressed with that country.

Farm and Garden

BARNYARD MANURE.

Value of an Important Manure Resource Which Should Be Saved. (Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

Barnyard manure is the most important manure resource of the farm and should be carefully saved and used. It not only enriches the soil with nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, but it also renders the stored up materials of the soil more available. Improves the mechanical condition of the soil, makes it warmer and enables it to retain more moisture.

On the basis of prices charged for commercial fertilizers, the average value of the manure annually produced by each horse or mule is $27, by each head of cattle $19, by each hog $12 and by each sheep $2. Probably less than half these values are actually realized in practice. It should be stated, however, that this method of estimating the value of manure is often misleading.

POULTRY MANURE IS THE MOST VALUABLE.

The real value is determined by the effect of manure on crop yields and on quality of crop products. The urine is by far the most valuable part of the excreta of animals. It is especially rich in readily available nitrogen, which rapidly escapes into the air if special precautions are not taken to prevent its loss. It is also rich in potash, but deficient in phosphoric acid. It should, as a rule, be used in connection with the solid dung, the one thus supplying the deficiencies of the other and making a more evenly balanced manure.

Barnyard manure is a very variable substance, its composition and value depending mainly upon (1) age and kind of animal, (2) quantity and quality of the excreta of animals. It is especially rich in readily available nitrogen, which rapidly escapes into the air if special precautions are not taken to prevent its loss. It is also rich in potash, but deficient in phosphoric acid. It should, as a rule, be used in connection with the solid dung, the one thus supplying the deficiencies of the other and making a more evenly balanced manure.

Manure animals, neither gaining nor losing weight, excrete practically as much fertilizing material as they consume in their food. Growing animals may excrete as little as 50 per cent as much as is contained in their food. Mature cows from 65 to 85 per cent, fattening or working animals from 85 to 95 per cent. In the fertilizing value of equal weights of manure in its normal condition farm animals probably stand in the following order: Poultry, sheep, pigs, horses, cows.

The animal stand in direct relation to those in the food. As regards the value of manure produced, the concentrated feeding stuffs, such as meat scrap, cottonseed meal, linseed meal and wheat bran, stand first, the leguminous plants (clover, peas, etc.) second, the grasses, third, cereals (oats, corn, etc.) fourth, and root crops, such as turnips, beets and mangels, wurzels, last.

The nitrogen of the food exerts a greater influence on the quality of the manure than any other constituent. It is the most costly fertilizing constituent. It undergoes more modification in the animal stomach than the mineral constituents (potash and phosphoric acid) and rapidly escapes from the manure in fermentation. The secretion of urine increases with the increase of nitrogenous substances in the food, thus necessitating the use of larger amounts of litter and affecting both the amount and value of the manure.

Barnyard manure rapidly undergoes change. When practicable to remove manure rapidly and spread it on the field at short intervals the losses of valuable constituents need not be very great, but when the manure must be stored for some time the difficulties of preservation are greatly increased.

One of the best ways to utilize barnyard manure is to apply it in connection with such fertilizing materials as supplement its fertilizing constituents. These materials may be either composted with the manure or used separately, except in case of nitrate, such as nitrate of soda, which should never be composted with barnyard manure on account of danger of contamination and loss of nitrogen. As is well known, barnyard manure is lasting in its effects and in many cases need not be applied so frequently, as the more soluble and quick acting superphosphates and potash and nitrogen salts.

Paint is liquid money. You spread it over your house and then sun, wind, rain and dust beat upon it in the effort to wear it out and get at the wood. Bye and bye you have to do it all over again—but less often with than with others. When you think of the cost of paint and painting, remember that one-third is paint and two-thirds labor.

It costs more to put on a poor paint than a good one. Use the paint that lasts longest.
